

Friday Dinner Outings on Buford Hwy Asian District | Side of Road (LEFT or RIGHT) is noted driving north

Mamak (Malaysian) This is also one of the hot new places that everyone's flocking to. Because it's small, it can be crowded during dinner. Top pics: Brisket or Sweet & Sour Chicken.

King Skewer Skewers are the spicy side, but the won ton soup (hand made on the spot) is a real treat.

Dessert & Coffee

- Sweet Hut Asian Bakery (all the rave with young people)
- Roll It Up Ice Cream (Thai style)

Across the Street from Asian Square (Right)

Northern China Eatery 5141 Buford Hwy (Right) Directly across from Asian Square

Look for Italy Optical Store at street level; restaurant is down the hill on the side.

Not sure standard southern Chinese fare, this small place (but not packed) is big on taste with steamed dumplings.

I Love Pho (Vietnamese) | 5145 Buford Hwy (Right)

Just one of MANY Vietnamese restaurants on Buford, but also one of the largest.

PINE TREE PLAZA | 5289 Buford Hwy (Right)

Bo Bo Garden This large restaurant with a large menu is where you'll find Chinese Americans on the weekend.

LanZhou Ramen Hand-pulled Chinese Lanzhou (or Lamian) noodles & broths take center stage here, with a noodle viewing window in back. Written up in all the top pic in Atlanta.

Dessert

- ICENY Ice Cream (Thai roll it up style)
- Paris Baguette Korean Bakery | not in Pine Tree Plaza, but directly across the road on LEFT: 5252 Buford Hwy

Yokohama Japanese Restaurant | 5412-B Buford Hwy LEFT (building attached to Skaking Crawfish)

Relatively new but good; rather small, so it could be crowded
