

Promoting Inclusion in a Diverse Community:

Building a Better Tomorrow

Georgia Southern University is a vibrant college community composed of three distinct campuses (Armstrong, Liberty, and Statesboro). These campuses exist within the greater landscape of local municipalities (Savannah, Hinesville, and Statesboro). The mayors of these communities will participate in a panel discussion to share how their leadership and citizens are working together to create a more inclusive community. The impact of those efforts on the Georgia Southern campuses will be discussed.

Thursday, Nov. 12

6 p.m. – 7:30 p.m.

Speakers: Mayors Van Johnson (Savannah),
Allen Brown (Hinesville),
Jonathan McCollar (Statesboro)
